The Family Without Borders – Europe's biggest Family Travel Blog

is National Geographic Traveler's blog of the year and among Poland's 10 most influential blogs 2015. It is run by Anna (a Polish travel journalist), Thomas (a photographer from Berlin) and their little globetrotters Hanna (6) and Mila (5). Together they travelled over 60 countries: from Europe, Asia, through Central America, to far away South Pacific.

TheFamilyWithoutBorders.com – for all who believe that "want" means "can" and that having kids widens your life, not narrow it – like traveling!
